is pleased to invite you to participate in

International Academic Conference

Russian Language in the Light of Current Linguistic, Intercultural and Glottodidactic Research

2-3 April 2020

Białystok, Poland

The conference will be an opportunity for Polish and foreign scholars to present the results of research on Russian language and culture, as well as exchange didactic experiences in the field of language education.

We would welcome papers on the following themes:

- Russian as a communication and dialogue tool
- Russian language and culture compared to other European languages and cultures
- Language and communication – linguistic, sociolinguistic and intercultural perspectives
- Russian language in higher education institutions
- Teaching and learning Russian – didactic solutions in the Polish, European and global context
- Problems in teaching Russian as a foreign language

Proposals of papers related to the main theme of the conference are welcome.
